

PICK NEW SITE FOR CONEWAGO TWP. SCHOOL

On a 4 to 1 decision, the Conewago Twp. school board Tuesday evening at its June meeting in the Midway schoolhouse rescinded a former action designating Menges property for its proposed new $400,000 grade school building and voted to acquire the Elmer Herr property at the corner of Elm and Linden Aves.

Arrangements were made for the school district to take an option today on the land with about 10½ acres to be bought for $15,000. Buchart Engineering Company representatives at the meeting were directed to proceed immediately with the preparation of plans for the 11-room elementary school.

Tuesday's meeting followed a public session on May 14 when township citizens gave the school board and the public comparative figures on four sites that had been under consideration at various times. The school project already has approval at Harrisburg.

Name Authority Board

The school directors named a five-man Conewago Twp. School Authority and designated the firm of Saul, Ewing, Remick and Saul of Philadelphia as bond counsel. Members of the authority board are: John R. Weaver, Maple Ave., for five years; Ira A. Fuhrman, Maple Ave., for four years; Edward F. Shorb, South St., for three years; Walter A. Wisler, Hanover R. 5, for two years; and Dr. Richard Y. Dalrymple, Hanover R. 4.

A letter has been received by the board, it was announced Tuesday evening, promising sewer connections with the McSherrystown system for the school to be built on the Herr property.

A score or more patrons attended the meeting Tuesday with all members of the board present. County Superintendent of Schools C. P. Keefe and his assistant, M. Francis Coulson, and Attorney Edward B. Bulleit, school district solicitor, also attended.

In addition to the business related to the new school the board received the resignations of two township teachers. They are Ruth Humpert, who taught at Mt. Pleasant School, and Effa S. Wentz, Sand Hill School.

152 Rebels, 16 Soldiers Are Killed In Battles In Algiers

ALGIERS (P) — French military authorities announced today 152 nationalist rebels have been killed in a series of three battles in this revolt-torn land. They acknowledged French casualties of 16 soldiers dead and 15 wounded.

Rebel sabotage and isolated attacks cost the lives of seven other persons in Algeria.

Two North Africans were killed and half a dozen wounded in clashes between rival Algerian factions in European France. The bulk of this trouble stemmed from scattered strikes staged by Algerian workers in industrial plants of northern France to protest the massacre of 302 of their countrymen at the village of Melouza.

5,000 Attend Funerals

The French attributed the Melouza massacre to the National Liberation Movement Flin, which ranks Arab friends of the French among its enemies. Most of the strikers were members of the rival MRA.

In Algeria, 5,000 persons marched in a funeral procession for three French children killed in a nationalist bomb attack Monday.

The biggest of the newly reported battles came in the Soummam Valley 60 miles east of Algiers. The

HIGHWAY DEPT. IS IMPROVING COUNTY ROADS

Adams county's state highway crews are embarked on an extensive program of improvement to roads including the surfacing of 15.5 miles of stabilized road, surface treatment of 35 miles of highway and resurfacing of a mile and a tenth of the Lincoln highway east of here, starting at the borough line.

The Lincoln highway resurfacing, with three inches of material, will begin about July 20. Each of the three lanes will be done separately so that there will be no interruption of traffic. Present plans call for the work to continue next year, until eventually the entire three lane stretch is resurfaced. Last year the three lane highway was subleased.

Clyde Garber, Adams county superintendent of highways, reported today completion of a $13,800 project to keep down dust on approximately 40 miles of road. The roads are scheduled to receive a second treatment of calcium chloride later this summer.

Resurface 9 Miles

Nine and a half miles of resurfacing from Heidlersburg to East Berlin has been completed. The section between Biglerville and Heidlersburg was resurfaced last summer.

The road crews are using motor power surfacing equipment to put a black top on stabilized roads for the first time.

At the present time black toping of a one mile section of stabilized road on Rt. 01004, from about a half mile from Heidlersburg to the Gettysburg-Harrisburg Rd. is being completed.

Today workmen began placing a similar surface on the Route 01005 between Route 30 at Guildens through Sugartown to the Brush Run schoolhouse on the New Oxford-Bonneauville Rd. a distance of 2½ miles. The 16-foot-wide road will be constructed in two eight-foot-wide sections.

HISTORIANS SEE HUNDREDS OF ANTIQUE CLOCKS

About 30 members of the Adams County Historical Society Tuesday evening on their annual June tour visited the John C. Myers collection of "antiques that live," scores of clocks of every kind at the Myers home, 338 Lincolnway West, New Oxford.

The collection that includes nearly every kind of clock excepting new ones — there are 47 grandfather clocks and uncounted scores of others — fills two floors of the Myers home. There is a "water clock" in the basement and the touring historians did not get to see it.

Confessing that he has always had an interest in clocks and has "worked with them for years," Mr. Myers showed the group of 30 or more visitors the first clock he got — a Terry-style shelf clock with wooden works bought for him by his father for five cents at a public sale over 50 years ago.

"Took" But No "Tick"

He does all of his own repair work and most of the clocks are in running order. Many of them chimed the hours of 7 and 8 while the historians went through the home in groups. Mr. and Mrs. Myers had returned at 5 p.m. from a trip to Florida and there was not time to get all the clocks in operation before the tour arrived. Mr. Myers explained.

Mr. Myers took the visitors first to the second floor, along a clock-lined staircase, to a room that held 14 grandfather clocks and a number of other types of timepieces. Many of the clocks were 150 years old and some of doubtful date but earlier than 1800.

Special attention was called by Mr. Myers to a skeleton clock with a chronometer escapement and a pendulum that "tocks" but doesn't

Ike Wants Total Disarmament Before Banning Atomic Tests

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

WASHINGTON (P) — President Eisenhower said today he would favor a complete ban on testing of atomic weapons—if there could be total and complete disarmament.

Eisenhower said he would like to allay "worldwide anxiety over fallout radiation."

But Eisenhower went on to say that a news conference that the United States never could join in any ban on testing unless there also were an agreement with Russia against use of atomic weapons.

Doubts Future Tests

The President did express doubt that this country ever again will test such tremendously devastating hydrogen bombs as it has in the Pacific on two occasions.

Eisenhower's remarks were in response to questions about the testimony before a congressional committee.

Geneticists and other scientists have said there that fallout radiation from nuclear weapons tests will damage hundreds of thousands—and perhaps millions—of the yet unborn, in terms of physical deformities and shortened life spans.

A newsman asked that Eisenhower—as the one who must make a final decision on whether this

HISTORIANS SEE

"tick." There is only one grandfather clock in the 47 that does not tick on the second — and it is the only one of its kind, Mr. Myers has ever seen. There is another skeleton clock that strikes and there are banjo clocks in the collection that strike, unusual accomplishments for those types of timepieces.

Clocks 9 Feet Tall

There are wagon-spring clocks, lyre clocks, acorn clocks, and hanging varieties of both of those kinds; grandfather clocks nearly nine feet tall that touch the ceilings of the Myers home; one-day grandfather clocks and many others that run for eight days; clocks made in Hanover, Carlisle, Lebanon, Norristown, Frederick; Scotch, English and London clocks; genuine Terry's and many other Terry-type clocks with brass and with wooden works.

There are New Hampshire mirror clocks with wheelbarrow works, Ives mirror clocks, a clock with a grandfather dial and grandmother works, clocks with original glass fronts some of which are beautifully etched and others with painted scenes, grandfather clocks that show the phases of the moon and the day of the month as well as the hour; French clocks, Chester County clocks, clocks with iron and pewter faces made in Hagerstown.

"Wag-on-the-Wall"

One tall grandfather clock has a case fastened with wooden pins and wooden panels instead of hinged doors. There are "wag-on-the-wall" clocks, Tiff banjo clocks, Massachusetts shelf clocks, English grandfather clocks in imitation Chinese lacquer cases and clocks of the familiar pillar and scroll style of the Terry make but bearing names of other makers.

Mr. Myers admits he has no clocks from either of the two known clock-makers in the county — John Albert of the upper end of the county, and Samuel Keplinger, of Gettysburg. Both made grandfather clocks and Albert marked his simply "Menallen."

The historical society will not meet again until October, it was announced by Dr. Frederick Tilberg, program chairman, who was in charge of the tour.

CONVEY GROUND COAL 108 MILES

CLEVELAND (AP)—Finely ground coal mixed with water poured through the world's longest coal pipeline last night.

The arrival of the coal solution at the drying yards of the Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co. marked the passing of a test the pipeline flunked last Feb. 21 when the 108-mile line became clogged in southern Ohio.

The 200-ton shipment of coal reaching here was the first to move through the entire length of the pipeline, starting in the southeastern Ohio coal fields near Georgetown.

The pipeline will operate around the clock, delivering 3,700 tons a day or 1,300,000 annually. It takes about 35 hours for a quantity of coal to move through the 10 inch pipe, which is buried at least four feet throughout its length to prevent freezing.

The pipeline, laid in four months by the Williams Brothers Co. of Tulsa, Okla., is the first such line more than 10 miles long. Originally it was scheduled to open last April 9 but in February, a breakdown occurred when the pipe became clogged at a place where the line goes down one hill and up another underground. Experts said later the trouble stemmed from the fact some of the coal being transmitted was too large.

The electric firm said the pipeline is expected to make possible a 50 per cent saving over rail transport costs.

PARIS (AP)—Opposition from the Socialist Left today appeared to finish the chances of Catholic leader Pierre Pflimlin to form a Cabinet and end France's 18th postwar government crisis.

The Socialist National Committee voted 73-21 this morning against taking part in a Pflimlin government.

Friends of Socialist Premier Guy Mollet, who lost a confidence vote two weeks ago, would like to see the premiership go to Mollet's defense minister, Maurice Bourges-Maunoury.

Today's Talk

MESENTERS
Long before there were railroads in this Western World there were messengers who carried news and letters to far-away parts, as well as to those near at hand. Little by little these carriers increased and we had the mail by foot and horseback, as well as through stage coaches. Then the trains and airplanes, as we have today a network of messengers.

And we mustn't forget the service of the mail men, who deliver to our offices and homes, letters, newspapers and magazines, as well as the looked-for letters that are so important in our daily lives. And there are other messengers that carry cheerful tidings of good will and hope to us all. This newspaper is a messenger to multitudes who look for the columns and inspiring features that make this newspaper an awaited friend!

In our business world are thousands of messengers always at our call. And we must not forget the telephone that carries millions of messages at all hours of the day and night — today taking many a message around the world. We are neighbors as never before! Would to God that there were more messengers of peace at work forever encouraging the duty of happiness.

Said John Galsworthy: "Grant me one prayer: Doom not to be hereafter of mankind to war. Make my last breath a bugle call, carrying peace o'er the valleys and cold hills for ever!" Imagine the incentive, the increased hope, and friendly interests created, if the world were suddenly flooded with messengers of peace and good will rather than a multitude of fears and forebodings!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Lonely Road". Protected, 1957, by The George Matthews Adams Service.

APPLE PIE
There are dishes that I like; there are dishes that I don't; There are some I'll gladly eat and the other kind I won't. But in spite of all the doctors, and the sweets which they deny, And the threat of indigestion, I will fall for apple pie.

I can do without your spinach and the broccoli I'll pass, And I'll say the yellow turnip is a food devoid of class. My mother used to tell me, much too finicky was I, But I welcome with affection (though I shouldn't) apple pie.

They've ordered me to follow a typewritten diet sheet, But upon it, top to bottom, there is nothing good to eat. On the list of foods it mentions I have cast an eager eye, Finding hay and oats permitted, but no word of apple pie.

I'm acquainted with the anguish of all gastronomic ills; To relieve them I have taken all the powders and the pills. To obey the doctors' orders, three times daily now I try; But I'd rather take their tablets than pass up the apple pie.

HOUSE STARTS SHOWDOWN ON CIVIL RIGHTS

By EDMOND LE BRETON
WASHINGTON — The House starts today its long-postponed showdown battle over President Eisenhower's proposals to strengthen federal enforcement of voting and other constitutional guarantees.

At least a week of debate and maneuvering appeared to lie ahead before final House action. Supporters of the civil rights legislation faced a dogged Southern opposition now encouraged by a Senate committee vote to require jury trials of persons accused of violating federal injunctions in civil rights cases.

Have Two Weapons
The Southerners have at hand in the House the two weapons they have been using throughout — delay and amendment. They were prepared to push a jury trial amendment as well as a variety of others, including one to outlaw the union shop.

Supporters of the legislation were counting heavily on Eisenhower's influence to hold Republicans from Northern and Western Democrats.

The bill, in one form or another, is expected to pass the House. It will meet a more severe test if and when it gets before the Senate, where Southerners can filibuster.

No Debate Today
The Southerners apparently have won a maneuver on the timing of the legislation. It was reported that a general agreement had been reached not to attempt to debate the bill on its merits today, but only to discuss the motion to bring it up for a vote.

This, in effect, would nullify the time advantage gained by the proponents of the bill when an unusual Saturday session of the House was scheduled this week. Under the recommendations of the Rules Committee, the bill would be debated through next Monday and then would be opened for amendments. Discussion and vote on these could be expected to take several more days.

Southerners have made a major point this year of the bill's provision that alleged violators of federal civil rights injunctions be tried by a judge without a jury. They want a requirement for jury trials.

Fear Nullification
Rep. Keating (R-NY), principal Republican manager of the bill, said Eisenhower registered "vigorous opposition" to the jury trial amendment at a session with Republican leaders yesterday.

The Southerners have won to their point of view some other legislators who say they cannot vote to subject citizens to the possibility of criminal penalties without jury trial.

Supporters of the civil rights bill, however, say that juries are not required in many other situations covered by federal law, and that putting civil rights enforcement in the hands of local juries will effectively nullify it.

Veteran Member Of House Expires

ROARING SPRING, Pa. — Daniel Homer Erb, 64, a Republican serving his 8th consecutive term in the State House of Representatives from Blair County's Second District, died yesterday.

The dean of Blair County legislators had been ill several months. He was first elected to the General Assembly in 1942 and was the House's fifth oldest member in point of service.

Erb formerly was a district engineer for the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Funeral services will be held Friday at Hollidaysburg, his home town.

CONVICTED OF MISTREATMENT

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — A court-martial hears pleas of extenuating and mitigating circumstances today before sentencing drill instructor A. Z. C. William Roberts Jr., convicted of mistreating a basic trainee.

Roberts was convicted yesterday of pulling trainee Robert Dinsbacher, 20, New York City, out of his bunk to the floor.

It acquitted him of striking Dinsbacher "about the head and body with his hands and shoving his head and body against the wall."

Can Be Jailed
Roberts, 22, who weighs 110 pounds, was also acquitted of kicking another basic trainee, George E. Walker, 18, Springfield, Mo.

Roberts, of Key West, Fla., faced a maximum penalty of six months in prison, a fine of two thirds of his pay for six months and a dishonorable discharge. The minimum was a reprimand or restriction to quarters for a time specified by the court.

"Considering we had an uphill fight I feel we were victorious," Roberts said. He told a reporter he would appeal.

Gifts For Merediths
For three years he served with the 36th Division Artillery, Texas National Guards, in North Africa, Italy, France and Germany. In 1955 he visited the Holy Land and earlier this year returned from a tour of the Scandinavian countries, Portugal, Spain, France, Germany and Belgium.

His other pastoral assignments have been as associate pastor at Asbury Methodist Church in Allentown, the Belfast-Wind Gap parish in the Philadelphia and then the Harrisburg post for the last four years.

As a farewell present, the local congregation presented to the Rev. and Mrs. Meredith during the Sunday School hour on Sunday morning a four-piece silver coffee service. The presentation was made in behalf of the congregation by William H. Pensyl, a member of the official board. The Youth department of the school gave the Merediths a recording of Stainer's "Crucifixion" and their daughter, Jacqueline, was given an autograph book.

The Merediths had been in Gettysburg for five years.

Gunman Thanks Cop For Catching Him

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Police say a armed gunman captured by a traffic patrolman yesterday has identified himself as James Cauley, 34, Chester, Pa.

The gunman thanked the policeman for catching him as he fled from the Beneficial Finance Co. with $129 taken at gunpoint.

"I might have gone on to worse crimes," he said.

Authorities say the man told of taking $30 from a Muncie, Ind., laundry in April and $150 from a Ft. Wayne, Ind., tavern last month.

TO TRY BOY FOR 2 ARSON DEATHS

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A 17-year-old boy has been held for the grand jury after being judged mentally competent to stand trial for the arson deaths of his sister's three young children.

The youth, David Thomas, is charged with setting fire to his sister's home May 11 after getting "shook up" over not finding a pair of dungarees. His sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Gayton, and her husband, Joseph, both 30, were rescued along with one son, Hugh, 9, and two foster children, Joseph Law, 15, and Viola Law, 17.

But the Gaytons' three younger children, aged 8, 5 and 4, were suffocated by dense smoke.

At the hearing, Dr. Nicholas Frimigo, a psychiatrist, described young Thomas as "emotionally immature." However, he said, the lad was neither psychotic nor mentally ill.

SOUTHWESTERN STATES SOAKED WITH MORE RAIN

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
More rain and more floods harassed storm-battered areas of three Southwestern states today and no immediate relief from the downpours and overflows was indicated.

Many rivers and streams in Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas were causing floods in wide areas, with more sections threatened after four days of heavy rainfall. Biggest damage came from the Red River, the 1,200-mile-long tributary of the Mississippi which runs through the three states.

The big stream carried a huge overflow from the flood control dam at Lake Texoma, which is along the Texas-Oklahoma border.

Superior Pitching Has Chisox And Phillies High In Loops

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Just how much does pitching count these days in the majors? To the Chicago White Sox it means a five-game American League lead. And to the Philadelphia Phillies it means a sudden and surprising surge that now has carried to within 1½ games of first place in the National.

The weak-hitting White Sox lead the majors with 19 complete games from their pitching staff. The Phillies' staff tops the National with 18.

Last Night Typical
Last night offered a pretty fair example of how the two clubs have been getting the job done. Little Billy Pierce, the winningest pitcher in either league, won his ninth with a two-hitter that beat the Boston Red Sox 1-0 in 10 innings. It was Pierce's seventh complete game.

The Phillies edged up on first-place Cincinnati by defeating the Redlegs 3-1 on the three-hit pitching of Harvey Haddix, who won his fourth.

The second-place New York Yankees scored a 7-4 victory over Cleveland. Baltimore beat the Kansas City A's 9-7. Washington knocked off Detroit 4-3.

Braves Ship
While the Phillies who like the White Sox have won seven of their last nine games, were dumping the Redlegs, the Brooklyn Dodgers claimed a full share of third place, two games behind, with a 7-5 success over the Chicago Cubs. Milwaukee Braves slipped into fourth, three games back with an 8-7, 13-inning defeat by the New York Giants. Pittsburgh quit the cellar with a 5-4 verdict over St. Louis.

The White Sox have gotten complete games in six of their last seven victories and Pierce clipped in his second in that span with a seven-strikeout job. He walked none while giving up a double to Billy Klaus in the third and single to Norm Zaucha in the eighth. The Sox finally got around to backing him up when Nellie Fox lined a one-out, bases-loaded single off reliever El Delock.

12 Yankee Hits
The Yankees slammed 12 hits, one a ninth-inning home run by Hank Bauer, and wrapped it up with three-run bursts in the first and third for Tom Sturdivant's fourth victory. Mickey Mantle (3-for-4), Yogi Berra (2-for-4) and Bauer (1-for-4)—lined $1,000 along with Billy Martin and pitcher Whitey Ford Monday for their night club scrap—had half the Yankee hit off loser Bud Daley and two relievers.

The Phillies sent Brooks Lawrence to his third defeat with a pair of runs in the second on an error, a triple by Chico Fernandez and a sacrifice fly by Haddix. Home runs by Duke Snider and Gil Hodges helped the Dodgers to a 7-0 lead, but Sandy Koufax then collapsed, although gouging his fourth victory with Clem Labine's relief help. A two-run, sixth-inning homer by Bob Speake was the Cubs' first hit, but a three-run homer by Ernie Banks started the young southpaw on the way out in the eighth.

2,000 For George Kell
A two-out single by Dusty Rhodes won for the Giants, who also had home runs by Willie Mays and Red Schoendienst. Al Worthington won his sixth in relief. The Braves had four home runs—by Frank Torre, Hank Aaron, Carl Sawatski and Del Crandall. Gene Conley lost it.

Two runs in the eighth brought the Pirates from behind, with Dee Fondy's RBI single the clincher. Stan Musial hit a two-run homer. George Kell became the 100th player to make 2,000 hits in the majors, getting three to spark Baltimore's comeback victory. He hit a two-run homer as the Orioles wiped out a five-run Kansas City lead in the fifth and then singled for two more in the ninth.

Clint Courtney's seventh-inning home run did it for the Senators, who had scored the run that tied it 3-3 on a wild pitch by loser Duke Mass in the fifth.

Signs Increase Giants, Dodgers Going to Move
By JOE REICHLER
NEW YORK (AP)—The outlook appeared dimmer than ever today for the Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Giants remaining in New York.

The heralded "showdown" meeting between Brooklyn President Walter O'Malley and New York President Horace Stoneham with Mayor Robert F. Wagner at City Hall yesterday gave rise to one belief. Unless the city fathers produce suitable new park sites before Oct. 1, the Dodgers will move to Los Angeles and the Giants to San Francisco.

There appeared no immediate prospect for a new site for the Dodgers or Giants. The mayor poured cold water on any thought that the city might build or subsidize a park for either club.

"Mr. O'Malley and Mr. Stoneham, has assured us they have made no commitments to move to the 'West Coast,'" he said. "Therefore, we will continue to do everything within reason to try to keep them in New York. Under no circumstances, however, will the city build a stadium for either the Giants or Dodgers."

Wagner also informed a huge press gathering that neither O'Malley nor Stoneham had made any commitments to stay in New York either.

The two club heads refused to give the city any guarantees. O'Malley, in fact, expressed extreme pessimism and said he would continue to negotiate with Los Angeles officials while the New York officials are trying to make up their minds.

Eastern League
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Birmingham Triplets are all alone at the top of the Eastern League today. It was Reading outfielder Mitch June's booming bat that was mostly responsible.

June smashed two homers and a double for four runs last night as the Indians trounced Schenectady 9-5 and knocked the Blue Jays out of a first place tie with Birmingham. The Triplets, meanwhile, edged Albany 3-1.

There were some hectic goings-on at Springfield where the hapless Syracuse Chiefs went down to defeat, 8-4. The game erupted in the eighth inning when Springfield scored five unearned runs.

PUTTING TEETH INTO IT
TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Two mayors shirked their dental appointments so Brig. Gen. Paul S. Emrick, commander of the Sixth Air Division at MacDill AFB, hinted strongly at a guardhouse remedy in a letter which pointed out that missing a dental appointment "is tantamount to failure to report for a scheduled military formation."

SAYS PHILLIES ARE DOING IT WITH PITCHING

By RALPH BERNSTEIN

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—If you're looking for proof positive that pitching is 75 per cent of baseball go no further than the 1957 surprise team of the early National League season, the Philadelphia Phillies.

Here is a club which has made only 35 hits and 18 runs in the last 36 innings and won six of eight games in the string. No they aren't doing it with mirrors, but with pitching.

Last night was a typical Phillies victory—five hits and three runs. The second place Phillies climbed to within 1½ games of the league leading Cincinnati Redlegs with a 3-1 decision over the pace-setters.

Couldn't Solve Haddix
While Brooks Lawrence and his Redleg relievers, Art Fowler and Tom Acker, pitched well enough to win most games, their usually hard hitting mates were unable to solve the southpaw wizardry of little Harvey Haddix. Harvey hurled himself a neat three hitter for the 18th complete game hurled by a Philadelphia pitcher in 43 games — tops in the National League.

Haddix has been bothered by a combination of virus and sinus trouble for the past month and the little left hander has had difficulty going the distance. But in winning his fourth game against three defeats last night he showed definite signs of returning to the form which helped him win 13 games in 1956.

"A few more victories like that one," said the perspiring Harvey in the locker room, "and I'll forget all about that sinus."

Threat In 9th
Haddix had to call on all his cunning to halt a Redleg threat in the ninth inning. Johnny Temple opened the frame with a double and Wally Post walked. Coming up were Gus Bell, Frank Robinson and Pete Whisenand. Haddix could see Robin Roberts and Dick Farrell heating up in the bullpen.

Manager Mayo Smith never even came out to talk with his pitcher. Just to show his appreciation for the silent vote of confidence, Haddix reared back and fanned Bell with a beautiful curve ball. He got the hard hitting Robinson and Whisenand on fly balls to end the game.

Last winter, Roy Hamey, general manager of the Phillies, said his club had the best pitching staff in baseball. There were some laughs around the league. But as of today, June 5, the snickers are faint. The Philadelphia staff of Robin Roberts, Curt Simmons, Haddix, Jack Sanford, Don Cardwell and reliever Dick Farrell is standing the hitters on their ears.

Kids Are Hot
What has the rest of the league worried is the breakdown of victories and losses by Philadelphia hurlers. The veterans, Roberts, Simmons, Haddix, Jim Hearn and Bob Miller, have won 14 and lost 13. The kids, Sanford, Cardwell and Farrell, are 12-4.

Now Hamey has another prediction. He says in June that if the Phillies start hitting this could be 1950 all over again. For the uninitiated, the Phillies won the pennant in 1950.

Anybody laughing?

CALLS NUCLEAR BOMB TESTING "SMALL RISK"

By EDMOND LE BRETON
WASHINGTON (AP)—Atomic Energy Commissioner Willard F. Libby told Congress today nuclear bomb testing is a "small risk."

The risk of annihilation... if we surrendered the weapons."

Libby's testimony was prepared for a Senate-House Atomic Energy subcommittee investigating effects of radiation and fallout. Other scientists have testified that excessive man-made radiation from bomb tests and other sources can cause cancers and damage to future generations.

"It is not contended that there is no risk," said Libby, an atomic physicist, but he contended there are risks in many human activities.

Cites Other Perils
He mentioned the 40,000 annual highway deaths, risk of drowning at beaches and "accidents in the home."

"Here our choice seems much clearer," he said, "Are we willing to take this very small and rigidly controlled risk, or would we prefer to run the risk of annihilation which might result if we surrendered the weapons which are so essential to our freedom and actual survival?"

"Massive use" of nuclear weapons in war, he said, not only would cause widespread cancers and leukemia but would produce abnormalities in future generations far beyond what might be caused by fallout from weapons testing.

The Elks and Hess Antiques won slugging victories in the local Softball League Tuesday evening.

In the opening game the Elks walloped the News Agency 16-1 as Bobby Dillman allowed only two hits and fanned seven in a game which was called at the end of five innings because of the first game curfew hour. Hankey and Woodward divided the receiving for the winners.

Aided by 10 walks, the Hess Antiques came from behind to take the nightcap from Biglerville 16-10 in a loosely played game. Bobby Hess smacked three doubles, a triple and a single in five trips to the plate and Earl Little banged out three hits to pace the Antiques. "Spud" Ecker homered for the winners in the fifth. Biglerville, dropping its third straight game, was held to but four hits, two of which were collected by Elks.

BOB TAYLOR JOINS BRAVES AT NEW YORK

By ED CORRIGAN
NEW YORK (AP)—Bob Taylor, the Milwaukee Braves' $112,000, 18-year-old bonus catcher, said today he didn't get much kick out of watching his first game as a major leaguer.

"I never get a bang out of a game that my team loses," explained the husky, sandy-haired lad.

Taylor, from Metropolis, Ill., joined the Braves yesterday and was in the bullpen last night. The New York Giants liked the Braves 8-7 on Dusty Rhodes' single in the 13th inning.

"A Big Difference"
Taylor didn't get in the game, but he warmed up both Warren Spahn and Taylor Phillips.

"And let me tell you," he said, "there's a big difference between high school ball and the majors. The way those guys throw is really something."

"To tell the truth, I didn't get much of a chance to form impressions, because I spent the whole game in the bullpen and you can't see much from there. I couldn't even watch our catcher (Del) Crandall."

14-Letter Man
Crew-cut, 190 pounds and 6-2, Taylor is a picture of confidence. If he's nervous, he doesn't show it — and he should, for his trip to New York was the first time he's taken a long train ride that he can remember.

"When you're in baseball," he observed, "there's only one place to be and that's the majors."

Braves' Manager Fred Haney was overjoyed at the thought of having Taylor on his team.

"After all," the little pilot said, "who wouldn't? Every team in the majors was after him and we got him."

Taylor was a 14-letter man in high school — four each in track, basketball and football and only two in baseball.

ANTIQUE CARS TO GATHER AT WILLIAMS GROVE

WILLIAMS GROVE, Pa.—Shouts of "got a horse," a frequently heard taunt in the early days of motoring, will resound again on Sunday afternoon when over 150 of the oldtimers assemble at Williams Grove Park for the fourth annual rally and tour being held under the auspices of the Gettysburg Region of the Antique Automobile Club of America.

Before the antiquated cars "chug" along the roads leading to Williams Grove, a different type of old cars will be put through their paces on the half-mile speedway on Friday night when the Jalopies return for their regular weekly stock car series.

A total of 150 cars, ranging from oldtimers dating back as far as 1893 to the classic cars of the '30s, are expected for the rally and tour, according to Emmett Shelley, of Carlisle, racing secretary for all events at Williams Grove and a member of AACA.

Most of the cars are "road-worthy" and will be brought by their owners to the assembling point of the rally under their own power. Others will arrive by trailer.

The antique cars will be on display in the park during the day at no charge for the curious who would like to look them over.

Awards To Be Made
Judging for various awards will start at 11 a.m. and the cars will be on exhibition until about 3 p.m. when most will leave in order to have ample time in which to reach their destinations before nightfall because of lighting requirements.

Plaques will be awarded to the owner of each car registered for the rally by Roy Richwine, owner of Williams Grove Park and Speedway. In addition, a first and second place trophy will be awarded in the 19 classes for which cars have been registered. Another award, the Roy E. Richwine Trophy, will go to the owner of the car voted on by members as the most outstanding car at the meet.

TRUMANS HAVE A GRANDSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Clifton Daniel, the former Margaret Truman, gave birth to a 6-pound, 8-ounce boy today. Mother and son were reported "doing fine."

"Margaret is very happy," said Daniel, "and I'm tired but happy." The baby is their first.

Former President Harry Truman and his wife Bess said they too were "very happy" about their first grandchild. Margaret is their only child.

The Trumans plan to leave their Independence, Mo., home for New York today.

Margaret, 33, and Daniel, 44, went to Doctors Hospital yesterday at 2:30 p. m. The baby was born at 12:11 a. m.

Dr. Louise Dantuono, the attending physician, described the delivery as normal.

Daniel, a member of the staff of the New York Times, phoned the news to the Trumans and to his mother Mrs. E. Clifton Daniel at her Zebulon N. C., home.

Daniel and Margaret were married in Independence April 21, 1956.

Happy With Baby

Daniel, handsome and prematurely gray, was a foreign correspondent during and after World War II.

Daniel was asked whether he or Margaret had a preference as to a boy or a girl.

"We are happy with what we got," he replied.

He said no name has been chosen yet.

A reporter then asked whether the boy was going to be a journalist like his father or a politician like his grandfather. Daniel answered with a laugh: "We'll leave that to him."

The Daniels live in Manhattan.

Begley To Play Paul Muni's Role

NEW YORK (AP) — Ed Begley, a veteran and versatile performer is making the biggest casting switch of the Broadway year.

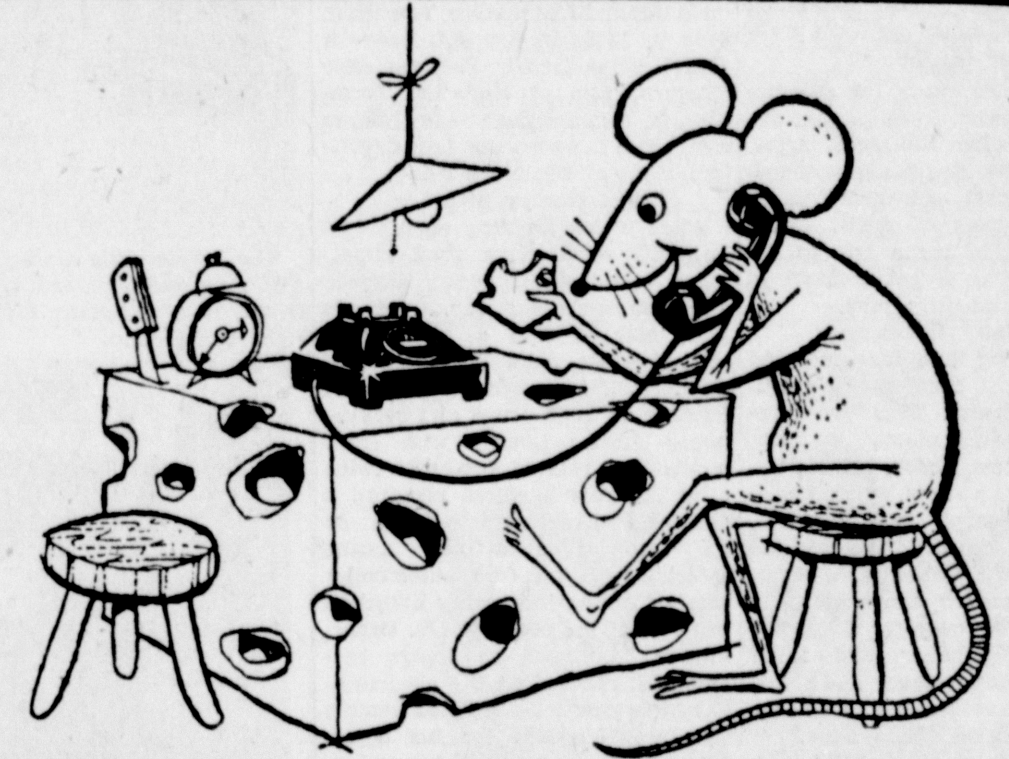

He has taken over the role created by Paul Muni in the hit drama "Inherit the Wind." The part is based upon famous lawyer Clarence Darrow's work in the Scopes "monkey trial" at Dayton, Tenn., 30 years ago.

Since the play opened in 1951 Begley has been portraying Muni's chief on-stage antagonist—a role based upon another renowned attorney, William Jennings Bryan.

The Bendersville Garage Celebrates Fortieth Anniversary Of Founding

Community In Upper End Of County Once Was A Beehive Of Industry; Founded In 1832

By LEIGHTON C. TAYLOR

"The Bendersville Garage" — This customary, stereotyped listing in our local telephone directory falls short of indicating or comprehending the efficient and diversified services available at what has become an indispensable community institution.

Bendersville borough, situated in the so-called "Upper End" of Adams County, with a population of approximately 400, is a typical small town municipality founded 125 years ago. Unfortunately, it is off the beaten path having neither immediate main highway nor railroad connection. There was a time, however, notwithstanding this handicap, when the town practically was self-sufficient.

Before the advent of the automobile, macadamized roads, and the telephone — when the horse, buggy, and wagon provided the only means of transportation — local industries supplied our major needs. About the only reason for a trip to the county seat was to get a marriage license or serve on a jury.

Had Many Businesses

By exercising their ingenuity and resourcefulness Bendersville's citizens manufactured their own wagons, carriages, plows, harness, carpets, caskets, shoes, bricks, tinware, women's hats, cigars and molasses. Several general stores, restaurants, slaughterhouses and meat markets together with blacksmith and barber shops were in operation. Two doctors, a dentist, druggist, watchmaker and tailor as well as an undertaker and stonecutter were available; and an iron foundry operated for a time.

But with the coming of the automobile, improved roads, the telephone and the mail order house, Bendersville's beehive of industry gradually folded up and disappeared. But, happily this had little or no adverse effect on the town's economy. Blessed with a picturesque and romantic location, nestling at the foot of the beautiful South Mountain range, and surrounded more immediately by matchless orchards and farms, it is indeed an ideal residential municipality. Prosperous fruit-growers, farmers, and bankers; men and women of various skills employed in nearby industries, together with those resting on their laurels in retirement, make Bendersville their home.

The one industry that had its birth, while those heretofore mentioned were disappearing, is the one now celebrating its 40th Anniversary — The Bendersville Garage. George Henry Franklin Orner (popularly known as Harry or H. G.) was the founder. Mr. Orner, a native Adams Countian, was born on a farm in Menallen Township, July 3, 1878. In his 18th year he married the former Frances Jane Thomas, also of Menallen Township. Of this marriage nine children were born, five sons and four daughters, eight of whom are living.

Buys Stanley Steamer

After trying farming on his own account, serving as road supervisor, telephone company director and trouble-shooter, Mr. Orner, in 1902, entered into a partnership with the late John W. Bucher, of Bendersville, for the purpose of butchering beef cattle and serving upper Adams County with fresh meats and related products twice a week. This business required three horse-drawn delivery wagons. At the same time a new means of transportation (the automobile) was attracting increasing attention throughout the country. Mr. Orner, always interested in things mechanical, recognized the availability of this new self-propelled vehicle as a replacement for his horse-drawn delivery wagons. Accordingly, in 1910, he bought a Stanley Steamer, then a popular make, and the purchase of two more soon followed.

Opens Garage

These horseless cars excited the interest of local residents, and before long Stanley Steamers were a familiar sight in the neighborhood. Some of the more prominent owners were Samuel B. Gochmaur, merchant and justice of the peace; William Sweigert, mill superintendent; Harvey Quigle, farmer and fruit grower; William C. Yeatts, merchant and banker; James Cole, prominent political leader, and Benton Fidler and many others.

The Bendersville Garage, observing its 40th anniversary, is one of the oldest businesses in that community. The four persons standing in the foreground are: Dale R. Orner, manager; Francis J. Orner; Emerson L. Orner, shop foreman; Richard Merle Culp, mechanic. Emerson L. Orner, used car dealer, is standing in the right background.

H. G. Orner is shown in his Stanley Steamer butcher and milk wagon in August, 1910. The photograph was taken by George E. Yeatts, of Gardners, in front of the residence of C. E. Group. H. G. Orner was christened George Henry Franklin Orner. When his friends started to call him Harry, he adopted the name, then changed it to H. G. Orner which he used the rest of his life.

The early automobile, while in the experimental stage, required much repairing and servicing to keep it on the road. In this activity Mr. Orner found an outlet for his pent-up mechanical aptitudes. While repairing his own and his friends' cars he realized that this was the kind of work for which he was best fitted. He thereupon, in 1916, disposed of his various business interests, and concentrated on establishing in Bendersville a business for the sale of cars and their repair and servicing by expert mechanics with first-class facilities.

The construction of a suitable building was the first consideration. A site was secured on Main Street just off Center Square, and the lumber for a three-story building service station, garage, and dwelling combined) was obtained from and processed on Mr. Orner's farm and woodland in Menallen Township. Pending the construction and completion of the building the new business was conducted in a large abandoned blacksmith shop nearby.

Had Maxwell Agency
Having already secured the Maxwell automobile agency Mr. Orner sold the first car in 1916 to the late Harry Cline, of Gardners for $495.00. This same automobile was resold not long since at a public sale in connection with the administration of Mr. Cline's estate, and is still in use as antique by the present owner, Harold Reuning, of Gettysburg.

In 1917 the new building opened its doors for business. Mr. Orner was a combination of owner, manager, salesman, and also mechanic if the volume of business required. The full-time mechanics were his oldest son, Lloyd J., and one Jack Johnson.

With ample space and facilities Mr. Orner recognized the importance of bringing more cars into the community if he were to use to capacity what he had to offer. To accomplish this he took agencies for the Dodge, Ford, Gardner, Paige, Jewett and the Stephens Salient Six. Prices ranged from $360 for the Ford to $2,750 for the Stephens, affording a wide price range for prospective buyers. Most of the new cars were either driven from Detroit or shipped by rail in boxcars c.o.d. The business prospered and a branch was opened for a time in Gettysburg to accommodate Stephens owners who had become quite numerous, this particular automobile being one of the most popular big cars.

Carried Mail, Passengers
A purely local operation, which required the use, repair, and servicing of a motor driven vehicle, was that of carrying the United States mail and passengers between Bendersville and Aspers story of the Bendersville Garage: Over the years because of what might be termed extra-curricular activities, it has become a sort of community clearing house and trouble-shooter.

For example, the Bendersville

Community Fire Company, one of the best community companies in the county, owes much of its efficiency and expansion to the more than ordinary support of the Orner organization. The company's fire alarm apparatus is located atop the Orner garage where its mechanism is carefully and regularly inspected and maintained. All fire calls are telephoned in to the garage and the siren promptly sounded by a member of the garage staff.

James MARLOW Reports

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP)—It will mean a rousing — maybe an historic — court fight if angry senators make good their threat to test whether anyone has the right to use the Fifth Amendment as Dave Beck Jr. used it yesterday.

The Constitution's Fifth Amendment says a man can't be compelled to give evidence which might incriminate him. That was Beck's excuse for refusing 130 times to answer questions by the Senate Rackets Committee.

But the way a witness — before a congressional committee or a federal grand jury — invokes the amendment to duck questions can be pretty tricky business. The Supreme Court has given various rulings, for and against people who used this amendment, depending on how they did it.

Avoids Knowing Dad

Young Beck even went to the extent of using the amendment to avoid saying he knew his own father, Dave Beck Sr., president of the Teamsters Union, who earlier had made a similar across-the-board use of the Fifth Amendment.

And young Beck's cousin Joseph McEvoy, questioned yesterday, did the same as the Becks. Incensed senators accused the cousins of misusing the amendment.

Committee Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) was so sore he said: "I think we've got to find out — and I know of no way to find out except to place it before a court — who is right in this procedure. If ... the courts sustain their position, then America is in great danger."

He ordered his staff to start the machinery for a test. This would require first a congressional citation of the younger Beck for contempt. Then if indicted he'd face a court trial. If convicted he would, no doubt, go up to the Supreme Court for a ruling.

A man can't use the Fifth Amendment to avoid answering questions which might incriminate someone else. He can use it only for his own protection. That's already settled. But this is where the trouble begins.

He can't, just as it suits him, answer some questions but not others. When employing the amendment against a specific question, he must have reason to believe an answer to that specific question might lead to his undoing.

On the other hand if he answers one incriminating question, he can't then start ducking behind the amendment to avoid answering others. The Supreme Court has already ruled on that in the case of a Colorado woman.

They might find themselves held in contempt if they invoked the amendment too soon — that is, against questions later considered nonincriminating by a court — or might lose the amendment's protection if they answered a single question.

In the case of the two Becks and McEvoy — a highly tangled affair that involved income taxes, use or misuse of union funds, perhaps conspiracies — their lawyers seemed to think the only safe course was to plead the Fifth Amendment against almost every single question.

But was it the safe way? The Fifth Amendment was intended to be used thoughtfully and only when necessary. If young Beck and McEvoy are cited and convicted, the court will have to give what will probably be a brand new ruling.

Community

or of the Orner family. Robert Orner is the popular and able president of the fire company, and his brother, Lloyd, fire chief and driver Day or night, in fair weather or foul, the fire alarm super-sedes everything else with the Orner brothers. Nothing but illness or absence from town precludes their answering a call, and the community is fortunate in having their unselfish and enthusiastic service in the protection of property from fire hazards.

The Orner organization is equally responsive and helpful in any community emergency even though related to its garage business. Like his father before him, Robert Orner is an active and resourceful member of the town council, of which his brother, Clyde is the efficient secretary. Clyde also holds the key position of head-bookkeeper with the well-known C. H. Musselman Company, having been with the company for the past 25 years. Another brother, Emerson, is a successful used car dealer. The three daughters of the family are all happily married, raising families, and active in church and civic affairs. One of the daughters, Dorothy, also attends to the garage's bookkeeping and correspondence. Mother Orner, head of the clan, with her hand on the throttle and exchequer, continues, together with her son, Lloyd, active in the management of the forty-year old business. In short, when in a quandary for help in an unexpected emergency a call to the Bendersville Garage will usually bring a favorable response.

I should add, as an afterthought, that the Orner organization, in keeping with its diversified community activities, many not related directly to its primary garage business, provided, for a time, facilities and accommodations for certain athletic events. For example boxing matches were held in the spacious main service room of the garage building. The floor space, ample for both ring and spectators, would be cleared of all cars and mechanical appliances, and local contestants would furnish the entertainment.

This was before quick and easy motors transportation was available, generally, to amusement and recreation centers, and such local events were popular and well attended.

Decision On Jap Trial Of U.S. Soldier Brings Senate Probe

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
WASHINGTON (AP)—The U. S. decision to let Japan try an American soldier on homicide charges brought on a Senate investigation today along with promise of more to come.

Chairman Ervin (D-N.C.) summoned the Defense Department counsel, Robert Dechert, before a closed meeting of an Armed Services subcommittee to determine "if the facts justified the action taken."

And Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.), his colleague on the two-member subcommittee, said that "we propose to find out who is responsible for this blunder."

Okayed By Ike
Specialist 3/C William C. Girard, of Ottawa-LaSalle, Ill., faces a Japanese trial on a charge of killing a Japanese woman, Mrs. Naka Sakai, 46, last Jan. 30. Girard was charged with shooting her while attempting to chase scavengers away from an Army firing range.

The decision to let Japanese courts try Girard was announced yesterday by Secretary of State Dulles and Secretary of Defense Wilson.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said that "certainly" President Eisenhower had approved of the decision.

Checking On Rights
In addition to the two-man Senate subcommittee, the House Foreign Affairs Committee set a June 13 meeting to look into the Girard case. And a Senate Constitutional Rights subcommittee under Sen. Hennings (D-Mo) let it be known that it has been looking quietly at the whole matter of the rights of servicemen. It has called no hearings, however.

Involved in the squabble is the general policy of "status of forces" treaties under which this government has granted many foreign nations the right to try U. S. servicemen for offenses committed while off duty, or not "done in the performance of official duty."

Such treaties in Europe as well as the Far East have come under frequent attack in Congress on the ground that members of the armed forces stationed abroad should be assured the right of trial under U. S. law.

Claim "Off Duty"
The Japanese contended that Girard was off duty at the time of the incident and said that gave them jurisdiction over the case.

But senators pointed to a Defense Department statement that Girard and another soldier "were ordered" by a platoon leader to guard a machine gun and other equipment as evidence he was on duty status.

Ervin told a reporter today that newspaper accounts of the shooting "indicate to my mind that Girard was on duty at the time of this unfortunate occurrence."

"If that is the case, American jurisdiction should be exercised," he added. "Our subcommittee will try to determine whether the facts justify the action taken."

See Repercussions
And Flanders said, "This decision could have serious repercussions from the standpoint of the continuance of the status of forces agreement. There should be strong representations to the Japanese."

The decision came as a surprise to many. Sen. Bridges (R-NH), chairman of the Senate GOP Policy Committee, said it was "exactly the opposite" of what Secretary of the Army Brucker said would be done.

Bridges said Brucker had declared the Army would assert jurisdiction over Girard on the ground that he was on duty at the time of the shooting. But the senator added the Army secretary was overridden because of a prior commitment by someone in the Defense Department. He said he assumed the subcommittee would look into this.

Girard, 21, re-enlisted in 1955 after a two-year army hitch which had included service in Japan. He is engaged to marry a Japanese girl.

The Girard case is the first in more than 15,000 alleged law violations in which Japan has invoked a provision which gives its courts the right to decide whether the offender was on or off duty at the time. Japan has claimed jurisdiction in about 460 cases and tried about 435, of whom 89 were convicted.

SCHOOL BUS AND TV MAKING U.S. CHILDREN SOFT

ASHEVILLE, N. C. (AP)—America's children, reared on television, the family car and the school bus, are showing up badly in physical fitness tests, a physical education expert reported today.

Bonnie Prudden, White Plains, N. Y., newly appointed to the President's Citizen Advisory Committee on Youth Fitness, said there is "a level to which we can't go without getting into danger, both physically and emotionally."

The Russians are spending billions for physical education—not sports, but gymnastics, "and they're not doing this for fun. They need a strong nation because they have plans for it," said Miss Prudden.

Need More Gym Work
She urged America "to take a leaf out of their books and get to work on our own youngsters."

Miss Prudden, a trim, dark-haired 43-year-old, who looks more like a college girl though she is the mother of two teenagers, operates an institute for physical fitness in White Plains. She came here to address the General Federation of Women's Clubs and urged the women to get busy to trim themselves and their families.

She said in an interview American children need more gym work and running games that build endurance, but less ball playing.

Recreation vs. Education
Schools aren't handling the problem, she said. Ninety per cent of the elementary schools have no gym at all and other schools are emphasizing recreation rather than physical education.

There is too much stress on baseball, volleyball and basketball, she said.

"Take the ball away and you have no program," she said, pointing out that gym apparatus has virtually disappeared from the schools.

Children need at least an hour a day in actual physical training or sports that build endurance, she said.

Change In Attitude
Miss Prudden said she has conducted muscle fitness tests among 4,800 U. S. children and more than 3,000 Europeans and found 59 per cent of the youngsters here failed, compared with 8 per cent in the European group.

In the past 10 years, she explained, there has been a change in attitude toward sports, a tendency to play indoors and watch television rather than participate in outdoor sports.

Question Constitutionality Of Appropriation Measure

HARRISBURG (AP)—The threat of unconstitutionality hung over the huge $1,107,000,000 general appropriation bill today.

Sen. Rowland B. Mahany, Republican floor leader, raised the question in attacking a section of the money-spending bill that would impose restrictions on fund-handling by state agencies.

"The constitution says the general appropriation bill should provide for appropriations only," he told a newsman. "That section amounts to substantive legislation and is unconstitutional."

Mahany said his fellow Senate Republicans would likely eliminate the disputed section.

In essence, the section would require approval by the General Assembly's Joint State Government Commission and the chairmen of the House and Senate Appropriations Committee before a department head could transfer funds within his agency.

Plan Big Reduction
Senate Republicans decided last night upon a $13,742,000 reduction in the budget set up by Gov. Leader for the commonwealth's 23 mental institutions.

The governor asked $153,553,630 for the mental institutions and Senate Republicans agreed to give $139,811,611.

The Senate figure was about $600,000 more than the $139,100,000 the House voted last week in passing the general appropriations bill.

This led to speculation by Mahany that perhaps the 1957 Legislature won't be able to meet the June 15 target for final adjournment. He said the delay on appropriations may push back the date to June 22.

Rep. Albert S. Readinger, Democratic floor leader, said it may take until next Monday for his party to support nearly $2 million dollars in special appropriations bills that require a two-thirds majority to pass.

Finger readily admitted to setting up a squeeze play on these money bills to forestall a rush in the Republican Senate on the big general appropriations bill.

Included among the delayed special appropriations is more than 27 millions for the Pennsylvania State University and 24 millions for state-aided hospitals.

Mahany, commenting on Gov. Leader's conference with Republican leaders on the GOP plan to slash 94½ millions from the budget, told a newsman:

"There may be some changes in the budget from the form passed by the House but, for the most part, the biggest cuts are going to stick as far as we're concerned."

No Sign Of Cuts
The economists also said that they could see nothing at this time in the five-year period ahead to indicate any downturn in federal outlays.

All members of the panel cited defense spending as the main reason for the steady upward pressure on the federal budget.

At another hearing yesterday, before a Senate Appropriations subcommittee, Asst. Secretary of Defense Wilfred J. McNeill confirmed the economists' views on that point. He said military spending for the current fiscal year was running more than two billion dollars above the original estimates, and that the same trend was likely in 1958.

ARE YOU CURIOUS?

You've seen this symbol many times in advertisements—sponsored by this newspaper or by one of its advertisers—urging us to help our schools, prevent forest fires, stop traffic accidents...

Did you realize that, in the words of Charles E. Wilson, "through the Advertising Council American business supports more causes, solves more problems and serves more people than is possible through any other single institution?"

We congratulate our advertisers—we are proud, ourselves, to be a part of this national endeavor.

EXPERTS SAY SPENDING WILL GO UP; NO CUTS

By JOE HALL
WASHINGTON (AP)—A group of experts told a Senate-House Economic subcommittee yesterday that the prospects in the next few years were for steadily increasing federal spending, with no margin for tax cuts.

One expert estimated the federal spending budget would reach $75,300,000,000 in fiscal 1959, or 3½ billions more than President Eisenhower's 1958 prediction for the year ahead.

The estimate came from Dr. Gerhard Colm, chief economist for the National Planning Assn., who said it was prepared after "fullness of cooperation of the Budget Bureau."

He took sole responsibility for it, however.

Shock To Lawmakers
The figure was a shock to economy-minded lawmakers.

For 1958, Colm forecast spending of $72,800,000,000, exactly a billion more than the President's estimate in his January budget message.

He said he would raise his prediction to 73½ billions unless Congress passes a postal rate increase bill.

Edwin B. George, director of the economics department of Dun and Bradstreet, said his own calculations on fiscal 1958 reached about the same conclusions as Colm.

All members of the panel cited defense spending as the main reason for the steady upward pressure on the federal budget.

At another hearing yesterday, before a Senate Appropriations subcommittee, Asst. Secretary of Defense Wilfred J. McNeill confirmed the economists' views on that point. He said military spending for the current fiscal year was running more than two billion dollars above the original estimates, and that the same trend was likely in 1958.

WONDER DRUG PRICE PROBE IS WIDENED

WASHINGTON (AP)—A government inquiry into the prices of "wonder drugs" has been revived and broadened—and scheduled for completion in August.

The Federal Trade Commission, after meeting with drug manufacturers and sending economists into their plants, has mailed new questionnaires to 18 producers of antibiotics.

Government sources said the FTC wants to know what cost problems justify the price tags on many drugs, why some well-established antibiotics have not dropped in price since they came on the market, and why some bids on competitive government contracts have been identical.

Not Carrying Hatchet
An FTC spokesman told a reporter the investigation "is a disinterested one—we're not carrying a hatchet, at least at this point."

The FTC voted to investigate antibiotic prices in 1953, then delayed to pursue more urgent matters.

The inquiry was revived and questionnaires issued a year ago, after a prod from the Senate Commerce Committee. The end of this month was set then as a target date for completion.

Need More Facts
"We found we needed more information," the spokesman said. "This is a billion-dollar industry which only really got started during World War II. It has grown so rapidly there is no comprehensive body of economic information on it."

FTC officials conceded that unusual problems complicate the pricing of wonder drugs. Large investments in exploration, research and development are necessary, with the returns highly uncertain.

LAWRENCE BAND PLAYS HERSHEY

HERSHEY, Pa.—Elliot Lawrence, whose orchestra is a favorite of college prom audiences from coast to coast, brings his band to Hershey Park's Starlight Ballroom Saturday evening.

Several times winner of Billboard Magazine's Campus and Disc Jockey polls, Lawrence has also appeared on many of the nation's leading radio and television shows, including "Summertime, U.S.A.," which also featured Mel Torme and Theresa Brewer; "The Dunninger Show" and "The Robert Q. Lewis Show."

His musical activities also include guest conductor appearances in the serious music field, including the Denver and Philadelphia symphony orchestras.

From the time he left the University of Pennsylvania for a career as an orchestra leader, Lawrence has recorded over five hundred sides for two major recording firms. One of his top platters was "Gigolette," in which he introduced the electronic Theremin, a human voice type instrument.

Free concerts in the park bandshell on Sunday afternoon and evening, June 9, will be played by the Post 27 American Legion Band, of Harrisburg. Concerts will be played from 2 until 4 and 7 until 9 o'clock.

SEEKS TO SAVE LIFE OF MOON, JUDGE SLAYER

HARRISBURG (AP)—Sen. Theodore H. Schmidt (D-Allegheny) yesterday introduced a bill which he said he hopes will save the life of the condemned judge killer, Norman W. Moon of Conneville.

Schmidt's proposal, referred to the Senate Judiciary General Committee, would force the courts to accept the decision of a sanity commission that a prisoner condemned to death is insane. At present the court can disregard the recommendation.

"Yes, this is introduced because of the Moon case," Schmidt said after submitting the proposal. "I hope it does save him—it's intended to, if possible."

Last Thursday the State Supreme Court refused to set aside the death penalty for Moon. He was convicted of the fatal pistol slaying of Judge Allison D. Wade in January, 1954, in the Warren County Court.

"Mentally Ill"
A sanity commission named by the lower court, as requested by Moon, found him to be mentally ill and said he should be sent to a mental institution. But the court declared him sane and sentenced him to death.

The Schmidt bill would prevent any person found insane by two qualified physicians from being executed "until such time as he has been re-examined and found to be sane by two qualified physicians or a sanity commission properly convened."

It states that when a convicted killer is found insane "it shall be the duty of the court to order the transfer of such person to a state hospital for patients convicted of crime."

Other new Senate bills would: Allow school districts to provide transportation for parochial and private school students—Barr (D-Allegheny).

Create a state highway planning commission of 15 members to be approved by the governor—Dept. (D-Westmoreland), Wade (R-Cumberland).

ORRTANNA — A Children's Day program will be presented by the Mt. Carmel EUB Sunday School June 23 at 11 a.m. The Rev. Roger E. Burnier is the pastor.

Approximately $275 was cleared from the turkey supper held at the Mt. Carmel EUB Church May 18. The proceeds have been applied to the building fund.

A pilgrimage will be taken Sunday afternoon, June 8, by members of the Mt. Carmel EUB Sunday School and Church to the Isaac Long barn, near Lancaster the scene of great revivals in the past. The pastor, Rev. Roger Burnier, will accompany the group.

Thirty-five pupils were enrolled at a two-week Bible School at the local Methodist Church Monday morning. Mrs. Margaret King is the superintendent with the following teachers in charge: Juniors, Mrs. Althea March; Intermediate, Mrs. Mary Tressler; Primary, Mrs. Ruth Donaldson, and Kindergarten, Mrs. Betty Donaldson. The Rev. Eugene Steiner preached his farewell sermon to the congregation Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Bowman and children, Glenda and John, Chambersburg R. 5, visited Sunday with the former's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Saum, at the H. B. Saum home.

Miss Joyce Musselman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Musselman, and Danny Roth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Roth, have completed their Junior year as students at Bluffton College, Bluffton, Ohio, and have returned to their homes here.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Tressler entertained on Sunday their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Thomas Jr., and son, Mark, York.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Hughes, York R. 2, and Gene Punt, York, visited over the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Carl McDannel, step-father and mother of Gene and Mrs. Hughes. Gene returned on May 22 from Phoenix, Ariz., where he spent six months due to ill health. He is reported to be much improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Wentz and family, Hanover, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Chapman, parents of Mrs. Wentz.
